The meetings held in the tent on the West Side are well attended. Accommodations are provided for 2,000 people. During the week night services an average of 1,600 people have assembled to hear E. W. Bliss preaching, while last Sunday over 3,000 people were in and around the doors of the tent. Mr. Bliss is a man of great ability in evangelistic work, and has been a co-laborer of D L. Moody for the past twenty years. He is not an ordained twenty years. He is not an ordained minister, and has not had collegiate minister, and has not had collegiate training, but is one of the hundreds surned out of the Moody Training school, into which he entered, having given up his business as traveling salesman. His style is clear and direct, striking home to the hearts of his hearers to convince them of their errors. He is preparing the way for his master and teacher, and no special effort has been thus far made to gather in the converts.

Mr. Moody will be in town today and will stay in the Westminster. He will preach tomorrow merning at 9 a. m. in the tent. The evening service will be for men only. A special meeting for the women will be held in the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church. Major Whittle will accompany Mr. Moody, and Messrs. Sankey and Steb-bins are expected next week. DEDICATION SERVICE.

Today, the First Slavonic church of Peckville will be dedicated. This is the first fruits of the missionary activity of the Lackawanna Presbytery. which has undertaken missionary work among the foreign populations of our valleys. This organization at Peckville has been in existence for some time, and until recently was under the fostering eare of the Green Ridge church. A commodious house of worship has been erected, and by the generosity of leading laymen in the Presbytery, the debt has been paid. The building will be dedicated free of all financial incumbrances today, when sermons and addresses appropriate to the occasion will be delivered.

The service will be in charge of Rav. S. C. Logan, D. D., the efficient superintendent of the work, who has given much attention to the first Slavonic solety in this flourishing town. Rev. George Guild, Rev. N. F. Stahl and Williams, of Dunmore, are also xpected to be present. E. B. Sturges down for an address. The pastor, John Klusack, will address the

COMING AND GOING.

W. L. Evans, pastor-elect of the Congregational church of Plymouth, will be ordained and installed by council next Monday. The first session will be at 2 p. m., when the pastors of the Wyoming conference will meet to examine the can-didate and take part in the ordination services. Rev. D. A. Evans, pastor of the Puritan Congregational church, of Providence, has resigned. His labors with his present charge will end the 30th inst. He has re-ceived a call from Vaughansville, Ohio, which he has accounted and will begin work chived a call from Vanghansville, Ohio, which he has accepted and will begin work there on the firs' of October. Mr. Evans' resignation is regretted by a large circle of friends, both in and outside the city. He has faithfully labored amid many disparagements in his present field for a year and nine months. The majority of the church comprises young people, dependent on their daily labor for subsistence, and of their scanty earnings they contributed liberally to pay for a lot upon which to erect a church. The edifice was built last year by the efforts of Mr. Evans, and ast year by the efforts of Mr. Evans, and last year by the efforts of Mr. Evans, and the present indebtedness is not so heavy as to be a source of anxiety. Affairs are prespering under his leadership, and the people of his charge deeply regret the resignation of their pastor and leader. Mr. Evans has labored before in Onio and is now returning to the fellowship of an association of which he was formerly a member.

Few recent developments in medical science has attracted more attention than those which have attended the experiments of Dr. W. W. Myers, of Philadelphia, to obtain a substance which will inculate patients against diphtheria. The announced results of these experiments have been received with some surprise and incredulity, but the opinion of careful observers seems to be that an important discovery has been added to the list of modern reme-dial agencies. For the purpose of in-oculation Dr. Myers has used a substance known as tox-albumen, which, according to his own description, is prepared as follows: "The diphtheria bouillion-culture is first filtered, then evaporated to one-third its volume: it is then treated with ten times the quantity of alcohol and acetic acid, and precipitated until a clear liquid is obtained; this is dialyzed for seventyobtained; this is dialyzed for seventy-two hours and again precipitated with alcohol and dried. The residue is a white substance, termed the diph-theria tox-albumen." Two children, aged 5 and 4 years respectively, and a married woman, aged 31 years, who were suffering with diphtheria, were thus inoculated by Dr. Myers, the tox-albumen being applied to the parts affected by the disease. In each case the patient recoved. In one of the families where the disease appeared families where the disease appeared five members, whose ages ranged from 18 to five years, were each inoculated in the left arm with this same toxalbumen. In three of the children slight febrile symptoms were manifest and slight uneasiness of throat. The inoculations healed kindly and no further trouble developed. The children were kept from school and in the house all the time, occasionally in the sick room, but no other cases developed. Three children, members of the household in which the second case occurred, were inoculated, and the husband and the sister of the married woman were also successfully inoculated. The left arm of the husband was very sore for several weeks, but yielded to treatment. The sister's throat was slightly inflamed for a few days, but there were no appearances of ulceration or false membrane. The doctor's experiments have been equally as satisfactory in cases of membraneous croup, which have been treated in the same way. The experiments of Dr. Myers were doubtless suggested by the reported success of Dr. Koch, the celebrated German bacteriologist, in the treatment of diphtheria by the use of his anti-toxine lymph. Dr. Koch claims to have cured over 3,000 cases of diphtheria in Berlin, and he wants $36,000 from New York city for the right to use his latest discovery.

Notwithstanding the generous size of this required royalty, the Koch lymph, it is said, will receive a thor-ough trial in New York. Professor Biggs, of the Gotham health depart-Bent, who was commissioned to go to Berlin and study its operation, has rerurned, and brings back glowing accounts of the lymph's efficiency. In 250 cases the anti-toxine treatment produced the following results under Professor Koch's prescriptions: Where the treatment was applied within the grst twenty-four hours, all cases were cured; where patients were innoculated on the second day of the disease, 97 per tent, recovered; when innoculated on the third day, 87 per cent. recovered on the fourth day, 76 per cent.; on the fifth day, 57 per cent. By the treatment any person who has been exposed to the disease can be rendered immune if the symptoms have not been developed. If cases are treated within thirty-six hours the mortality can be rendered practically nothing. It can be seen how wonderful the treatment is when it is recalled that the average mortality of true diphtheria is 27 per cent. The anti-toxine treatment rest on the following facts:

1. It has been found that where t person contracts an infectious disease, and recovers from it, that person cannot contract the same disease again for a greater or less length of time.

2. Many infectious diseases are known to be caused by specific terms. 3. Death from an infectious disease is not caused by the germ of that disease, but by a poison (toxine) created by the germ. In diphtheria the Kiebs-Loeffler bacilli of the disease create a poison, which, when absorbed from the throat by the body, cause death. 4. The reason why a person who has recovered from an infectious disease cannot "take" that disease again for a period of time is because there has been created in the body of that person an anti-toxine, some substance which neutralizes the poison of the disease, just as acid neutralizes an alkali.

5. Dr. Koch has found that if large animals, such as horses, cows, etc., be given small doses of dyphtheria bacilli they will become slightly sick, giving them another dose after they get well, and then another and another there comes a time when no dose of diph theria bacilli will make them They have then developed in the blood the anti-toxine substance, whichever this is, which neutralizes the poison of Professor Biggs, in a lecture upon this subject the other day, explained further that the blood of these animals then becomes an autidote to this poison. It is drawn off in such quantitles as will not injure the animals and may be used at once on a person who has just contracted the disease. As, however, the injection of the blood of an animal into a man would create a fever, the serum of the animal's blood is separated before it is used. Beecham's pills are for This contains the anti-toxine sub-If this anti-toxine serum is biliousness, bilious headache, injected into a healthy person it has no febrine effect whatever, but it neutralizes the poison of diphtheria. It takes from four to six months to get an animal into the condition where the ache, bad taste in the mouth, anti-toxine substance exists in its coated tongue, loss of appe- mal has to be watched and treated by skilled men. It is the purpose of the New York board of health when it has this serum ready to give it to physi-cians throughout the city for use. As pay is the most frequent the work of making it is costly, must be done by a sanitary board or the poor could get none of it. The board will ask for an appropriation of $30,000 to carry along the work.
